

Texas Family Law Practice Manual

Changes to Forms—2016 Supplement

This list notes changes in the forms in the manual that affect language that would appear in a finished form. Changes to instructions and bracketed language are not noted.

Many of the noted changes reflect 2015 legislative enactments. Where appropriate throughout the forms, the terms “husband,” “wife,” “mother,” and “father” were eliminated (often by substituting the parties’ names) and gender pronouns were eliminated or the options expanded; these changes were implemented to reflect recent case law providing for same-sex, as well as opposite-sex, marriage and conservatorship.
